IN NEW COURT HOUSE

Mayor's Examiners Say They Find Indications of Luxuries of Private Club.

FIGHT ON PLANS CERTAIN

As the eleventh hour inquiry in action. into the court house plans has brought in anything like their present shape.

vote a whole upper floor to library pur- was practially wrecked. The space allotted is 70,000 1.250,000 books.

In the examination of the plans ordered by Mayor Mitchel it was figured that as much as 20,000 of the 70,000 equare feet library space might be utilized for reading rooms and the offices of the librarian. A liberal allowance, of the librarian. A liberal allowance, the theory that most of the works TUXEDO COLONISTS would be very thick volumes, showed that the remaining 50,000 square feet would easily house twenty-eight books to the square foot. Hence the discovery that 1,400,000 volumes would be eeded to fill the shelves.

Largest Library, 90,000 Books,

This seemed to be a large library and nquiry was made as to the size of law libraries generally. The largest here was found in the Post Office Building, where there are about 90,000 volumes. DANCE GIVEN AT THE CLUB 50,000 NOW SPOKEN FOR The present library of the Supreme Court in New York county, for which the library space in the new court house is intended, is only 15,000 volumes. The law library that is thought to be the best in New York is that of the Supreme Court in Brooklyn. This consists of only 40,000 works. The law ibrary at Columbia, another notable colection, is under 60,000 volumes.

Further examination of the pians Further examination of the pians showed about 3,700 square feet provided for the librarian and his clerks. The Supreme Court library of 15,000 volumes is now cared for by a single employee. It was figured that simply to populate the great room, 44 feet by 84 feet, laid out in the new Court House for the library force would require sixteen persons, with desks of various sorts. This, it was said, seemed like creating a great void in order that jobs might be necessary to fill it. And even if the temptation to create jobs was resisted, it was pointed out to the Mayor and the Board of Estimate it would be necessary to materially increase the library staff, as in a library occupying pary staff, as in a library occupying much space one man could not get cound the floor and do the necessary

MRS. DE LANCEY NICOLL OFF TO BE WAR NURSE

Will Visit Friends in England for Time and Then Plans to Go to France.

Mrs. De Lancey Nicoll, 23 East Thirty-ninth street, sailed on the liner Philadelphia for Liverpool, yesterday, with the expectation of going to France and becoming a war nurse later in the summer.

"Mrs. Nicoll will be away at least three months," Mr. Nicoll said last night. "She has formed no definite plans except that she will visit relatives in England for a time. She has seriously considered the advisability of taking up nursing and has studied with that end in view."

Mr. and Mrs. Nicoll were in Europe when the war started, and hurried from about three years ago. Besides a large Ostend, Belgium, to London at the time attendance from the cottage colony there of the great rush of American refugees were many from out of town who are from the Continent.
